PASSING OF THE DISPENSARY

Our South Carolina friends are in the throes of the discussion of the liquor question. Many are antagonistic to the famous dispensary system. which places the sale of all liquors immediately in the hands of the state authorities, and which contributes all its revenue to the state funds. After some years' experience with this system, it is significant that the best men in South Carolina now favor prohibiattitude of the Baptist Courier. It declares its conviction that 'the sale of intoxicants as a beverage, whether by individuals or the state, as proven by experience, can give rise only to evil, and is therefore immoral." The other states have been intently regarding the experiment in South Carolina. Politically it is more to be desired than the open saloon or high license; but morally it was, from the first, a failure. The Courier adds: If the chief evil of the whole liquor business be the beverage use of the stuff, and it undoubtedly is, how can any sane man expect a system that embodies this use, defends it, panders to it and lives by it, to excel in its good results for sobriety, a measure that opposes not only the attractive dress and body of the evil, but its very soul as well? For it cannot be denied with truth that while the dispensary has stripped off some of the enticing trappings that marked the devil of the saloon, the same hideous monster has been transferred to a more respectable abode where he is dressed as an angel of light. And while it is true that one may entertain angels unawares, it is also true that one may entertain a devil unawares.

A LIFE AND DEATH FIGHT

Mr. W. A. Hines, of Manchester, Ia. writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even if it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50c and $1. THE PROBLEM OF PROBLEMS

Bishop Turner, the negro who is urging upon the government the feasibility of appropriating a large amount of money for the colonization of the negroes of America in Africa or elsewhere, is the sort of Moses who gets mad. This time he is mad at the opposition of his own race. An editor of the bishop's color, but not of the bishop's opinion regarding colonization, had the temerity to say so in his paper, whereupon the would-be Moses of the Afro-Americans has a few plain words to say. He calls the negroes by the endearing epithet of "black scullions" and declares that they have not sense enough to see their degradation nor spirit enough to resist it. He adds that every negro who opposes colonization should be taken to the nearest tree and hanged.
